

STRUCTURE

One of the aims of the Conference is to explore divergent forms and methods of communicating and producing knowledge. With this in mind and making recourse both to the practice of walking and of art, the conference program is divided into three different sections.

The first one has to do with the traditional form of making knowledge public: debating ideas and collectively thinking such as academic presentations. This part will take place in the Bizkaia Aretoa (UPV-EHU).

The second one, as an ordinary or banal way of thinking and knowing, will be developed through walking. Each day two guided itineraries along different, even antagonistic, routes that link Bizkaia Aretoa and Bulegoa Zb will help us to know post-industrial Bilbo.

The third, developed in collaboration with the Office for Art and Knowledge, Bulegoa Zb, will take place in that space and will propose other ways of knowing through arts curatorship, performance and Spoken Word.

Disparate times call for disparate methods.
(McKenzie Wark, 2016)

ORGANISING COMMITTEE & COLLABORATORS

Diego Carbajo, University of the Basque Country
Beatriz Cavia, University of the Basque Country
Olatz G. Abrisketa, University of the Basque Country
Peter Kelly, RMIT University, Australia
Peter Kraftl, Birmingham University, United Kingdom
Benjamín Tejerina, University of the Basque Country

Conference

YOUNG PEOPLE, WELL-BEING, RESILIENCE AND ENTERPRISE: CRITICAL PERSPECTIVES FOR THE ANTHROPOCENE

5-6-7th September, 2019

BIZKAIA ARETOA

Abandoibarra Etorbidea, 3. Bilbo

The Anthropocene is, firstly, in all their diversity, a discourse of earth systems sciences. However, if 'humans' are differently implicated in the emergence and consequences of the Anthropocene, then the social sciences and humanities must critically engage with, and contribute to, debates about these planetary wide changes and their consequences.

Well-being, resilience and enterprise are key-words in many policy, academic and community discourses about contemporary populations of children and young people around the globe. These 'states-of-being' are frequently imagined as being able to 'inoculate' individual children and young people against many of the education, training, work and life 'disruptions' that characterise the start of the 21st century.

This conference emerges from a sense that we need to develop new ways of thinking and 'troubling' these keywords at a time when planetary systems — environmental, capitalist — are in crisis.

GIZARTE ETA
KOMUNIKAZIO
ZIENTZIEN FAKULTATEA
FACULTAD DE
CIENCIAS SOCIALES Y
DE LA COMUNICACIÓN

Organizers
Sponsors

Departamento de Sociología Z

CEIC
Centro de Estudios
sobre la Identidad Colectiva

Bulegoa Z/B

GIZARTE ETA
KOMUNIKAZIO
ZIENTZIEN FAKULTATEA
FACULTAD DE
CIENCIAS SOCIALES Y
DE LA COMUNICACIÓN

SEP 05	THURSDAY, 05 Activities at Bizkaia Aretoa. ARRIAGA Auditorium
8:30	Registration
9:00	Welcome and Introduction by Benjamin Tejerina, Peter Kelly & Diego Carbajo
9:30 11:30	SESSION 1 - Pablo Aránguiz, Deborah MacDonald & Kate Tilleczek: We are all Children of Mapu ñuke: Youth Voices for Transitions Towards Sustainable Development and Education in a Common World - Siri Hettige: Predicament and Life Chances of Youth in the global south at a Time of Socio-economic Volatility and Increasing Uncertainty - Lucas Walsh & Rosalyn Black: Reacting to Uncertainty: the University Students as Homo Promptus - Meave Noonan, & James Goring: Confident, Creative and Enterprising Young People? The School Strike for Climate and Lessons for Australian Education
11:30	Coffee-Break
12:00 14:00	SESSION 2 - Peter Kraftl: Plastic Childhoods - Veronica Pacini-Ketchabaw: Reconfiguring the plastic-scenes young children live with - Teresa Elkin Postila: What can society learn from children about environmental issues concerning water? - Mindy Blaise, Jane Merewether & Joanna Pollitt: Recalibrating resilience: A feminist intervention towards understanding children's water, weather, and waste relations in uncertain times
14:00 15:30	Lunch with Posters: Kari Paakkunainen
15:30 17:30	SESSION 3 - Nicola Ansell: Equipping young people for a changing world? Experiences and expectations of the expansion of schooling in Lesotho, India and Laos. - Selena de Carvalho: Participation is the new consumption - Jenny-Angheliek Papasotiriou: How to do things with words, things, humans and all the 'rest'... Youth, the Anthropocene and the Museum - Aviva Reed: Soil as thinking. New ways: unearthing old ways
17:30 19:00	Sandra González (Itinerant Presentation): 'The river was death': post-industrial voices and narrations along the Nervión River
19:00 19:20	ACTIVITY AT BULEGOA ZB
19:30 21:00	- Beatriz Cavia: Presentation of Bulegoa, an Office for Art and Knowledge
	- Activity curated by Chus Martínez & Filipa Ramos

SEP 06	FRIDAY, 06 Activities at Bizkaia Aretoa. BAROJA Auditorium
	SESSION 4 - Anoop Nayak: Wasted Spaces? Young People, Place Attachment and the Practice of Reanimating the Post-industrial Landscape - Kelly-Ann MacAlpine, John Drew & Cory Jobb: Restorying Precarities, Peculiarities, and Pedagogies of Place in Early Childhood Education - Ana Sofia Ribeiro: I am from here: Rural youth belonging after wildfire disaster in Portugal - Jean Mitchell: Ecologies of Care and the Cultivation of Well Being. Youth and the Relational Worlds of Gardens in Vanuatu, SW Pacific
11:30	Coffee-Break
12:00 14:00	SESSION 5 - Seth Brown: Socio-Ecological Models Of Student Engagement: Young People's Well-Being, Resilience And Enterprise In The Chthulucene - Adrienne Bacelar de Castro & Sarah Hennessy: Charcoal Intersection: BeingS, care and common worlds citizenship in the Anthropocene - Diego Carbajo: Young people, Asinotherapy and Trust: Experimental Sociologies for the Anthropocene - Olatz G. Abrisketa: Wolves and Young People in the Anthropocene
14:00 15:30	Lunch with Posters: Estefanía Henríquez & Gareth Millar
15:30 17:30	SESSION 6 - Peter Kelly: Young People and the Anthropocene: Futures Past and Present? - Kate Tilleczek: Knowing Global Youth in/of the Anthropocene - Ron Srigley: "In a Drunken Sky": The Paradox of the Anthropocene - Michael Marder: Is There Such a Thing as Youth in the Anthropocene?
17:30 19:00	Alexi Hofer (Guided Walk): Non touristic itineraries in the post-industrial Bilbao
19:00	ACTIVITY AT BULEGOA ZB
19:30 21:00	X. López, M.Mariskal, S.Noain, & K.Osinaga: Spoken Word for the Anthropocene
	Dates: 5-6 September 2019, Main Location: Bizkaia Aretoa, Auditorium of the University of the Basque Country, Abandoibarra, Bilbo, Basque Country (Spain) Registration fee for public: 100€ [Closes the 24 of July] More info at: https://youngpeopleanthropocene.org Contact: young.people.anthropocene@gmail.com